Threads

➔ They are the part of the code which can be independently executed in parallel.